

Value Statement for Honors Program

We believe that the honors program is an interdisciplinary effort to develop talent and ability in both the academic and leadership areas.

The honors program recognizes the inequality that exists in higher education. We are committed to take action against this system for marginalized students, by actively recruiting students of color, incorporating more inclusive curriculum, and increasing the diversity of the faculty who teach honors courses.

In addition, we believe that the college needs to provide resources to minimize the equity gap in honors courses and to provide faculty skills needed to structure the classroom experience to maximize high quality learning and success.
