The Bay Area is a rich, diverse feast when it comes to the art scene. Downtown San Francisco galleries seem to exhibit the "name brand" artists. Galleries South of Market and in the Mission (alternative spaces and artist run galleries) tend to exhibit more "edgy" work and have a commitment to nontraditional art, artists as community and pluralistic ideas. They also tend to focus on concept rather than form, often challenging our views on what defines art. In San Jose, check out Works, SJICA and Gallery A.D.
