Cinco de Mayo Celebration: An Evening of Entertainment

Augustin Lira and Alma Present Chicano! 500 years of Struggle. Alma is an acoustic ensemble that brings to life the Chicano/Latino experience through song and narrative while telling the Mexican-American story by focusing on their contributions and accomplishments. The program examines Mexican-American history and how they were impacted by turbulent times. It also reveals how they organized themselves to fight against racism and inequality while maintaining their culture and heritage. The group features original compositions by Augustin Lira, presents works by authors throughout Latin America, and employs the musical styles prevalent in Mexican, Latin American, American, and Afro-Cuban cultures.

Pochoson Presents Jarocho Music and features Patricio Hidalgo of Chucumbe, musicians, dancers, and visiting Son Maestro from Veracruz, Mexico, Los Otros leader Chris González Clarke; Charlie Montoya formerly of Los Otros, Dr. Loco's Rockin' Jalapeño Band and Hector Lugo of Son Boricura. Together, these accomplished musicians and vocalists create a musical experience that is a rich blend of African, Spanish and mestizo influences that characterize el Son Jarocho. Using a repertoire of Jarocho music that is integral to the Fandango—an interactive experience of song and dance—as their foundation, Pochoson also explores the musical links between Mexico's gulf coast music and Cuban sones, Columbian vallenatos, and the occasional ranchera.

Los Cojolites Presents Son Jarocho Music
Los Cojolites are from Jalitipan, Veracruz they are the spearhead of a new generation of soneros. Son Jarocho is among Mexico's ancient surviving musical traditions and has its roots in the mixing of three cultures in the jungles of southern Veracruz. Los Cojolites range in age from 12 to 20 years, travel around the world playing a very modern son Jarocho with the energy of youth. They are the proud bearers of the heritage of this little known Mexican art form.
